John F. Blair Publisher. Paperback / softback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, General Robert F. Hoke: Lee's Modest Warrior (2nd), Daniel W Barefoot, He was the youngest major general in the Confederacy. He fought in the first battle of the Civil War and was still fighting after Appomattox. Instead, he quietly went back to work, hitching his war-horse to a plow. A leader in the rebuilding of North Carolina's economy, he did not talk about the war or even attend veterans' reunions, insisting that Southerners needed to put the war behind them and move on. Hoke's father died when the boy was only seven. Robert studied briefly at the Kentucky Military Institute, then returned home to take responsibility for the family businesses at the tender age of 16. When the war began, Hoke received a second lieutenant's commission. Within three years, he was a major general. Barefoot recounts Hoke's meteoric rise, as well as the skill and...
